BA is a service provided to children enrolled in Medicaid with significant behavioral issues (e.g., children with autism who are injuring themselves or others). It is usually provided in the child's home. It is critical that the Agency ensure the health, safety, and welfare of the children receiving this service.

Under the Florida Medicaid program children have access to all medically necessary services, including applied behavioral analysis services. If any recipient is having difficulty accessing services, please encourage them to contact the Florida Medicaid Helpline at 1-877-254-1055 or file a complaint using this online form. To be clear, there have been no cuts to funding or coverage for behavioral analysis services, and this service is still available.

Myth: Children who need BA therapy are having their services cut.

- Myth: AHCA is suspending qualified providers.
- Myth: There aren't enough providers to serve the population.
- Myth: AHCA switched prior authorization providers to save money.
- Myth: AHCA only has one person processing applications.
